you are wrapped in love!

This shawl was made with love, just for you,
Each stitch a prayer, guiding you through.
I prayed for peace to fill your heart
And for friends' support to never part.
May comfort and calm find their way,
And hope and healing forever stay.

It's more than a shawl—it's a hug in disguise,
With countless stitches and love woven inside.
May it bring you warmth when the world feels cold,
A gentle embrace when life's hard to hold.
A hug to remind you how dearly you're adored,
A soothing touch when you're feeling unsure.
A prayer you can feel to carry you through,
A tender reminder that love surrounds you.

When you're feeling low, may it lift you high,
With a prayer in each stitch to help you get by.
And always remember, in all that you do,
You're cherished deeply, wrapped in love so true.

you are wrapped in love!

This shawl was made with love, just for you,
Each stitch a prayer, guiding you through.
I prayed for peace to fill your heart
And for friends' support to never part.
May comfort and calm find their way,
And hope and healing forever stay.

It's more than a shawl—it's a hug in disguise,
With countless stitches and love woven inside.
May it bring you warmth when the world feels cold,
A gentle embrace when life's hard to hold.
A hug to remind you how dearly you're adored,
A soothing touch when you're feeling unsure.
A prayer you can feel to carry you through,
A tender reminder that love surrounds you.

When you're feeling low, may it lift you high,
With a prayer in each stitch to help you get by.
And always remember, in all that you do,
You're cherished deeply, wrapped in love so true.